REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

To the Baptists of Pennsylvania is committed a full share of responsibility for the speedy evangelization of the entire State. Filled as it is with monuments of Christian benevolence, and numerous as are the churches which maintain the cardinal truths of religion, there are, as all know, hundreds of thousands of its inhabitants who are as heathens in our midst, and whose fate, if unreclaimed, must forever be worse than that of heathens. Our cities abound with dens of iniquity, and our rural population presents scarcely so large a proportion of active Christians as some of the newer States. A very considerable part of the ministers of the Gospel in the State are mere ritualists, so far as man can judge, and multitdes of professors of religion pretend to no other regeneration than their infant sprinkling. Viewed in these and various other aspects, we are of opinion that no part of the earth offers greater encouragements to evangelical labor, or greater claims on the liberality of Pennsylvania Baptists.

Your Board of Managers, in entering upon the duties of the year, in October last, found themselves under circumstances of painful embarrassment. Not only was there no money in the treasury, but there was a debt of about eleven hundred dollars, incurred during the few preceding years. The interest of the denomination in the Society was in no degree commensurate to the importance of the work. At the annual meeting of the Convention, finding that the cost of a general agent had been a third of the revenue, none had been appointed, and hence a further decrease in the contributions of the churches was to be expected. The impression extensively prevailed that the Convention must be dissolved. The Philadelphia churches, from which the great bulk of the funds had always been derived, were beginning to feel that the city itself was a most necessitous field, and ought to receive a prominent part of their attention.

At the first meeting of the present Board these discouragements were appaling. With a heavy debt, and not a dollar on hand, the Managers were obliged to decide whether they would re-appoint the missionaries, or any of them. To drop them would, in some cases, and these the most important, be the certain destruction of the enterprizes begun, and the loss of all that had been done for a series of years.

It was truly a time of gloom. The Managers prayed and pondered. How could they break up lovely and promising missions! Or how could they engage missionaries to do work toward which the denomination seemed indifferent, and for which they gave few signs of furnishing the pay! They finally resolved to continue the former appropriations, as being absolutely necessary to prevent an entire surrender of the ground taken. The new Corresponding Secretary voluntarily relinquished all compensation; but, in the state of his health, would only consent to serve one year. The more pressing claims of the Society were paid; partly by Managers present, advancing in cash their usual annual payments, and partly by borrowing funds. In the hope of being sustained by the churches, the work of the year was thus commenced. But each quarterly payment to the Missionaries was made by borrowing the money from members of the Board, who kindly furnished it free of interest. All the Missionaries were re-appointed for the whole year, and one for six months; and two new stations undertaken, viz: Williamsport and Allentown. The list of places will at once show the importance of the work. They will be seen by referring to a subsequent table. No other new appointments could be made, though a considerable number of applications were received which it pained our hearts to reject. Some of these were of the most promising kind; and would have obtained immediate aid, had it been in our power. We cherish the hope that our successors in office will find themselves warranted to consider these applications, and afford assistance. The Corresponding Secretary has received, recently, new applications equally impressive, to be laid before the new Board.

The following brief history of some of our stations will be interesting to the supporters and friends of the Convention:—

HARRISBURG.

This church has been in existence for thirty years; their constitution having taken place on the 3d of April, 1830. The few Baptists in that city were visited by the Rev. D. A. Nichols, in February, 1830, who was sent by this Board. When organized as a church, there were eight members; twelve others were present, who subsequently obtained letters, making the total twenty. For a few months their meetings were held in a small meeting-house belonging to the Unitarians. They were then permitted to occupy the court house, where they continued to hold Sunday service until they built their own house, which was completed on the 18th of August, 1831. The Dedication Sermon of this house was preached by the Rev. M. Finlay, of Baltimore; the other services were conducted by Rev. J. L. Dagg, of Philadelphia. There was a debt on the house at the time of its completion, but to what amount does not appear. Subsequently it was reported to be three thousand dollars. In September, 1831, Rev. D. A. Nichols resigned the pastoral charge. Rev. George I. Miles, of Centre Co., Pa., became pastor, September, 1831; and continued until December, 1834. Some degree of prosperity was enjoyed during this period, and the congregation was quite large. Rev. Samuel Wilson afterward preached six months, and afterward T. G. Keen, for a short time. In 1837 Rev. Edward Kingsford became pastor, and remained with them until December 31st, 1839. About the time Mr. Kingsford was closing his labors an informal meeting of the church was called, and resolutions disbanding the church were passed. The object of this meeting not having been stated, only five persons were present; being a very small minority, and but three of these voted for the resolutions. The reasons assigned for this act were 1st. Circumstances of an unhappy character; but there is no means of ascertaining what those circumstances were, as there is no intimation given in the resolutions. 2d. The removal of a number of male members. This act caused much sadness and discouragement to the feeble band; and meetings seem to have been suspended for some time. In May, 1840, a meeting was held, and a letter was drawn up to be forwarded to the Central Union Association, asking advice, and for the appointment of a Committee to visit them and investigate the doings of the few that had passed the above resolutions. This letter was signed by seventeen persons, all females but one. It met a favorable reception by the Association, and resolutions were passed, expressing confidence in the integrity and Christian character of the applicants. The Association passed also resolutions, declaring it as their opinion that the resolutions for disbanding the church were not binding. They also appointed two Committees; one to correspond with the Board of our State Convention, and present the views of the Association in relation to this church, and also urge upon them to continue their aid in supporting a pastor. The other Committee, consisting of Revs. Messrs. Bernard and Nichols, was to visit the church, which they did, and called a meeting of the members. At this meeting resolutions were passed, declaring "1st. That there were no good and sufficient reasons existing at the time for the dissolution of the church. 2d. That they did not consider the vote as either Scriptural or valid, and consequently not binding." The reasons were fully set forth and declarations made of their existence as the First Baptist Church of Harrisburg; also expressing their determination by God's help to maintain the visible worship of God and the ordinance of His house.

On the 1st of April, 1841, Rev. E. Andrews came, and held a series of meetings, which resulted in some accessions to the church. After that Rev. Mr. Ketcham came, and held meetings for ten days, which also resulted in some accessions. In September, 1841, Rev. M. Temple came in compliance with a call from the church, and labored, with considerable success, until the 1st of April, 1844. He was succeeded by the Rev. Edward Conover, who remained less than a year. Rev. J. A. Davis accepted a call in March, 1847, for one year; but remained only until November, 1848; the house of worship being that year sold for debt.

Thus were a faithful few again dejected and smitten. But they could not abandon either their principles or work; nor was the Convention willing to forsake them. They continued their meetings, and their confidence in God; and the Convention sent them in October, 1853, the Rev. David Williams, whose heart was warm toward the little band. In 1850, resolutions were passed, expressing their determination to continue in the faith once delivered to the saints, and also to take measures for the establishment of the church. In January, 1853, it was resolved to erect another house of worship. The work appeared formidable, but the propriety and necessity of it were obvious. In May, 1854, the work was commenced, but the church having resolved not to incur a debt, the work necessarily progressed slowly. But the pastor was exceedingly diligent and self-denying, and gathered liberal contributions in all parts of the State. On the 20th of November, 1856, the basement was dedicated to the worship of God, and has been used from that time. This is one of the neatest and best arranged lecture rooms to be found.

Bro. Williams resigned the charge of the church October, 1857. In 1858 the church called the Rev. J. Green Miles, of Williamsburg, Pa., who entered upon his labors on the 1st of August. Some degree of spiritual prosperity has been enjoyed, and some faithful members been added.

The new meeting-house is eligibly situated, in what will soon be the centre of the city. It is much to be regretted that it is not completed. The property, as it now stands, is moderately estimated at fifteen thousand dollars. The amount expended for lot and house, thus far, is about eleven thousand dollars, four thousand being the allowance for increased value of property. An intimation was given that fifteen thousand could be had for it. Six thousand dollars are needed to complete the building, which, when done, will be one of the best in the State. The church is now without a pastor. The Convention has expended on this station, from first to last, about $

YORK.

At the close of 1850 Rev. G. M. Slaysman settled at York, fitted up, at his own expense, a rented room over a store, and commenced preaching. He found five Baptists in the place, and four others eighteen miles distant. A church of eleven members was organized in the following May. He supported himself, receiving aid from his brethren and friends to the amount of about $40 during the year. In December, 1851, the State Convention appropriated $150 to his support, and have continued to grant aid till now, amounting in all to $2050 for the nine years. The baptisms, in all, have amounted to thirty-seven. The church book enrolls seventy-two names, of whom forty are considered members. The congregation on Sunday averages fifty persons, with prospects of increase.

The Sunday-school has thirteen teachers and sixty scholars. The house of worship was commenced July, 1852, and was finished and dedicated Sept. 14th, 1856; the church having worshipped in the basement for about four years. The amount paid for materials, work, interest on borrowed money and mortgage, and traveling expenses while obtaining subscriptions, is $5681.91. The debt now remaining amounts to $2000, besides some monies advanced by Bro. Slaysman. The above expense includes the cost of a comfortable parsonage house.

In December, 1855, Bro. Slaysman commenced preaching at Stewarton, once a month, and in the following September a church was formed (Hopewell and Marshall church) of six members. The baptisms there have been seventeen, and the present number of members is twenty-three. The congregation averages one hundred persons, who contribute for the support of the minister about $50 per annum.

POTTSVILLE.

In 1845 the Rev. A. A. Anderson, pastor of the church of Minersville, walked into Pottsville, a distance of five miles, every Sunday afternoon, for several months, and preached to a few persons in the town hall. Through his influence a society was formed, a room rented, and a Sunday-school organized by his brother, Rev. George W. Anderson, who also preached three months. The meetings were afterward kept up without a minister, though often at the week-day meetings not more than four were present. In January, 1847, Rev. Charles Tucker, and other brethren, organized the church with thirteen members, but still there was no pastor. Letters were written asking aid of several churches in Philadelphia, and answers were received from two of these, encouraging them to keep on. The State Convention voted a liberal appropriation, and the Rev. Andrew Levering became pastor of the church in the Fall of 1847.

The congregation now increased, and twenty-five were baptized. In 1849 the pastor proposed building, and went abroad to collect the means; but his absence caused the congregation to decrease, and the meetings to become less interesting. After the lapse of three years the house, though not fully completed, was dedicated, and at that time supposed to be paid for; though it afterward appeared the church was left under a debt of $3000. The cost of lot was $1300; of building $7000; paid $5300; and for repairs $1000:—present debt $3000.

Soon after the dedication of the building Mr. Levering resigned, and the Rev. J. H. Castle became pastor in the Fall of 1853. Very soon thirteen were added by baptism. But the following Spring the unfortunate trial of the previous pastor produced dissatisfaction, and some members withdrew for a season. Mr. Castle removed to Newburgh, N. Y.; hard times came, and many moved away; so that only three male members remained. The church, unable to pay the interest of the $3000, appealed to the Board, which decided to pay it for three years. Meetings were kept up on Sunday mornings, and once during the week; the sisters often carrying them on alone. A sister was treasurer, and another church clerk. The Sunday-school still prosperous, was carried on by the sisters, aided by a superintendent, who labored faithfully in that capacity for eight years, and has been recently baptized. The building was now falling to decay for want of repairs; but it was a glad sight to look at the happy faces of the children who met there every Sunday afternoon, and to note the labors of prompt and faithful teachers. Liberal yearly offerings were sent from the school for Foreign Missions.

Mr. Castle paid a visit to Pottsville each Fall, for his heart still retained a deep interest in the prosperity of his former flock. These visits, and his advice, did much to strengthen the little band. At each visit he baptized some from the Sunday-school, until the number baptized by him became seventy-six. But the house was becoming worse and worse. One of the sisters, feeling that an effort must be made, visited the cities of Philadelphia and New York, spending the Summer of 1858 in collecting aid. In the Fall a festival was held, which received the hearty aid of the inhabitants of the town; and by these means many repairs were made. The church remained without a pastor for three years; but the zeal of the sisters maintained its visibility, and profitable and precious meetings were enjoyed. As for the Sunday-school, it did not even flag. The payment of the interest of the debt by the Convention kept the meeting-house in safe possession.

In 1859 the Rev. R. H. Austin was persuaded to enter the field, and at once appearances became favorable. Disaffected members returned; some brethren have been added, who take an efficient part, and be has baptized thirty-four. Another festival has brought in more means, and the building, now completed, is in good condition. A thousand dollars have been expended in repairs. The members are poor, but contribute willingly, as each pastor has testified. One family lived on bread and molasses for some time, that they might contribute to the church. But the severe trials of this devoted band of disciples, we hope, are past. They are united in loving and helping their minister, and he is untiring and self-sacrificing in pursuing his labors. We trust the church, ere many years have elapsed, will become self-sustaining. The present number of members is ninety-seven, of whom sixteen are males. The Sunday-school comprises one hundred and seventy childreu.

BRISTOL.

No reliable accounts seem to exist in regard to the details of the origin of this church. Old persons state that about forty-five years ago the Rev. Thomas B. Montanye, of Southampton, visited Bristol, and preached occasionally. He baptized there Mary White, which was probably the first baptism in the place. Afterward the Rev. Joseph Simonson, from New Jersey, preached once a month. Afterward Rev. Nathaniel Colver, of Holmesburg, now of Cincinnati, preached occasionally, and baptized Anna Chew, with some others. In 1839 the Rev. F. Ketcham, of Burlington, preached sometimes, and brethren from the Burlington church came over and held prayer meetings. At this time there were several Baptists in the town, among whom were Amos Carson and his two daughters.

In 1848 the Rev. C. Davidsou was sent by the State Convention, for one year; and during his stay a church was organized, (Sept. 29th,) consisting of fifteeu members. The next year the Convention sent the Rev. M. Watkinson; and in 1850 the Rev. C. J. Page, who continued about six years. The corner stone of a church edifice was laid June, 1851, which was occupied for worship about a year afterward. The house is 82 feet long by 44 wide, and will seat over five hundred persons. The cost of house aud lot was $7000, of which $2360 remains as a debt. The present minister is our missionary, the Rev. J. S. Miller, who took charge May 1st, 1859. The number of church members is one hundred and three, of whom 23 are males. The Sunday-school and infaut class embrace oue hundred and forty-six scholars.

WILLIAMSPORT.

Williamsport, in population, in wealth, and in public and private improvements, is in advance of any other town within the limits of the Northumberland Association; yet while Baptist churches were being constituted in comparatively small and obscure places, no effort was mads to organize a church in this place until the year 1853. At the session of the Northumberland Association in that year, President Malcom, of the University at Lewisburg, introduced the subject, and Brethren J. G. Miles, of Jersey Shore, and W. T Bunker, of White Deer Valley, were appoiuted a committee to survey the ground and report next year. This committee reported favorably, and a committee, consisting of Brethren Malcom, Campbell, Richmond and Blackwell, was appointed to take such measures as they deemed proper to prosecute the business. Two hundred dollars per annum for two years was subscribed at the Associatiou for the purpose. Next year, 1855, this committee, through Dr. Malcom, their chairman, reported as follows:

"The committee appointed at your last session, to attempt the establishment of a permanent Baptist interest at Williamsport, proceeded without delay to their important work, and are happy to be able to state that the effort has been successful to the full extent of their hopes. Our first movement was to endeavor to induce Bro. J. G. Miles, to dissolve his relations to the church at Jersey Shore, and become the pioneer in this great work. We found the church there, attached as they were, and still are, to Bro. Miles, willing to submit to the judgment of the committee, and resign his services for this purpose. Bro. Miles, having finally concluded that it was his duty, commenced the undertaking in October last, and being granted the use of the Court House, at once began regular public worship, accompanied with pastoral labor during the week. The congregation soon became steady and numerous. About eighteen or twenty brethren and sisters of our denomination were found in the place, sixteen of whom united in a regular organization, on the 17th of December last, since which time the cause has steadily advanced; and already occupies a prominency that could scarcely be expected from double the length of time which the field has been occupied."

The newly organized church applied for admission to the Association at that session, by her delegates present, and was most cordially received. The number of church members at that time was forty-five, there having been received by baptism eleven and by letter nineteen. The same committee was continued, and at succeeding Associations reported their doings and the state of the enterprise. The Convention granted $250 per annum, and brethren and friends, in and around Williamsport, contributed liberally toward the support of the minister. In 1853 the letter of the church to the Association reports an increase of three by baptism and fourteen by letter. In the Minutes of the Association for 1857 we find that "Bro. Malcom, from the Committee on Williamsport, reported that field to be in a most interesting and flourishing condition." There had been received twelve by baptism and six by letter, making in all 72; and measures had been commenced for the erection of a good meeting-house. An admirable lot, in the right place, was generously presented to the church by Peter Hardick, Esq., of Williamsport, for this purpose, in the preceding March. The building was commenced in 1857, and finished September, 1860.

In August, 1858, Bro. Miles removed to Harrisburg, and the pulpit was supplied by students of the University until August, 1859, when Rev. Joshua Kelly, who had been a successful pastor at Muncy, was induced, by the advice of the Committee, to accept a call to Williamsport, and has labored there until the present, with manifold tokens of the Divine approbation.

The meeting-house, including the tower, is 85 feet long by 56 wide; entire cost $12,000, and is one of the best built and neatest in the State. There is a debt of about $2,000, for which there are sufficient subscriptions if they do not shrink too much in collection. About $1,500 will be necessary to finish it completely. It was dedicated September, 1860. Sermon by Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, of Philadelphia. On this occasion a noble liberality was manifested, not only by the church members, who had already contributed to most liberal extent, but by the citizens generally, who had also aided with great liberality. The sum of $3,000 was raised in two evenings.

The interest of our people in this State, in their grand duty of evangelism, must not be measured by the amount contributed to their State Missionary Organization. A very small part of our zeal in this regard, is expended through this Board. In several Associations much is done within their own borders.* In some localities very liberal contributions have been made to erect places of worship. The brethren in Philadelphia are seldom without the presence of some special agent, who gathers large subscriptions for churches and institutions in our own or in distant States, and Territories. Many of the churches who send nothing to the Convention, are supporting the cause at home, only by great liberality and self-denial. The reports of the American Home Missionary Society show that Pennsylvania is not insensible to the claims of that eminently important society.

As there was no agent to visit the churches, the Secretary has exerted himself to supply the deficiency, to some extent, by an active correspondence. The annual report, and afterward a circular letter were sent, by mail, to every ordained minister in the State, and to other members, as far as their post-office address was known. He also attempted to extinguish the debt, by one dollar subscriptions, and by frequent appeals in the Christian Chronicle. Sad as was the commencement of our present year, the close of it has been bright and cheering. Expressions of sympathy and a firm determination to stand by the Convention have come up from all parts of the State.

*The Northumberland Association, through their Committee, Rev. J. R. Loomis, C. S. James and Rev. G. M. Spratt, have raised the past year the sum of $495.09, and have appropriated it as follows: Lockhaven, $110; pastor, Rev. A. J. Furman; County Seat, Clinton county. Williamsport, $100; pastor, Rev. J. Kelly; County Seat, Lycoming. Bloomsburg, $75; pastor, Rev. J. R. Shanafelt; County Seat, Columbia. Lockporte, $75; pastor, Rev. W. Callender; County Seat, Sullivan. Selinsgrove, $100; pastor, Rev. A. J. Hay. The balance on hand, $33.56, has been paid over to the Convention, thus lessening their generous appropriations to Williamsport and Laporte from $350 to $316.54. The combined sum reaches $837.09 expended on this Association. The Committee for the ensuing year are Brethren Mirick, James, and Spratt. It is proposed to raise the same amount for the ensuing year as we raised in the past.

The contributions to the Convention, during the current year, have amounted to $1450.97, besides $181 collected by the Secretary for the debt, making in all $1631.99 The amount paid missionaries the past year, is within $314.18 of the amount paid the preceding.

Thus the year which commenced in gloom has ended with an amount of missionary work done equal to the average of former years.

In addition to this gratifying result, we have to record the receipt of a legacy from Mrs. Susan Wolfe, of the Spruce Street Church, sister-in-law of our President. By her last will, she made the Convention her residuary legatee. This generous devise has yielded to the Convention the sum of $3937.75. Two thousand of this is in a mortgage well secured, the rest has paid up every demand against the Convention and left it, for the first time, with a handsome balance in the treasury.

At the last meeting of the Managers it was Resolved, That this Board will cherish the memory of Mrs. Susan Wolfe, for her generous liberality in bequeathing to the Pennsylvania Baptist State Convention a portion of her Estate, amounting to $3937.75.

In conclusion we entreat the churches to make their collections earlier in the Conventional Year. It cannot be a matter of moment, in any congregation, whether the collection be made in one part of the year rather than another; and to the Board it is a very serious matter. We would urge that the months of November and December be selected, in all practicable cases, for the effort in behalf of this charity, and the collection remitted without delay.

On behalf of the Board,

HOWARD MALCOM,

Corresponding Secretary.

Approved by the Board October 11*th*, 1860.

The following table is designed to exhibit the amount of money contributed by the Churches of each Association, and the amount expended within the bounds of each by the Convention; also the excess of contributions or expenditures in each. The table is necessarily incomplete. The writer could not procure an entire file of the Reports of the Convention. He found also that in a few instances the Treasurer's account of the funds contributed was given in such a way as to make it impossible for him to know correctly to what Churches to credit a large part of them. The accounts of three years have thus been omitted. The table thus extends over a period of some twenty-six years.
